(The front between the Oise and the Aisne embraces about forty miles).

HUN ARMISTICE WAITS UPON ALLIES TERMS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. — The German government's reply to President Wilson's last note, asserting that the negotiations for peace are being conducted by a people's government with actual and constitutional powers and that the terms of the American and allied governments for an armistice are awaited, reached the Swiss legation today by cable. The President is expected to make no rejoinder. His personal exchanges with the German authorities, officials said today, ended when he transmitted the correspondence to the allies. The next step must be on the part of the belligerents, acting in concert.

Ehidemic is Now Well in Hand

Richmond has got a strangle hold on the epidemic with gauze masks and is slowly but surely getting rid of it. And if everything goes along as nicely as they have we may breath easily and free again in a week or two.

The cases in the 48 hours over Sunday and yesterday were 110, which is better than a 50 per cent decrease over any day last week and Health Officer Blake says that he will reduce it 50 per cent more in the next three days. There were also 11 deaths for the 48 hours which is also a 50 per cent decrease.

"But for all this we can't let up." Doctor Blake says, "for it is like a forest fire, keeps smouldering and might burst into flame again any minute. So a police of watchful waiting will be carried on.

Total Deaths and Cases.

Since the epidemic started there has been sixty-four deaths in this city, and a total of 1779 cases.

"FLU" VICTIMS OF LAST 48 HOURS

Jenka, Charles, at Red Cross Hospital.

Poulsen, Mrs. O. A., native of California, 34 years old.

DR. BLAKE CLOSES SALOONS IN COUNTUY

Health Officer Blake and Charles Donnelly took a flying trip through the county yesterday closing up saloons and chasing the flu from all the surrounding towns.

He was so hot on the "bugs" trail that several speed cops chased him and arrested him. One of these drew up to him and asked him what his hurry was.

"I'm chasing the "flu bug," replied Doc Blake.

"What do you mean."

Then Doc Blake explained who he was and told him that he was after the live ones while Donnelly was after the dead ones. With that the officer let them go speeding on their exterminating way.

"FLU" MASKS FOR COUNTY TOWNS

The gauze mask wearing edict will be enforced in all the surrounding burgs and towns of the county by Health Officer Blake as soon as the supervisors will release an order to that effect.

Such an order has been received from Judge Latimer and armed with this the doctor will muzzle them all.

ALAMEDA NAVALBASE UNDER CONSTRUCTION

OAKLAND, Oct. 28.—Work on the new Alameda Naval Base, won by the Eastbay region through the decision of the Helms Commission, has actually started.

While all eyes have been focussed on the suspension of work at the Liberty Shipyards, and conjecture after conjecture, and conflicting reports galore have surrounded the situation, Uncle Sam has quietly gone ahead with the new permanent Naval Base. Land has been filled in, and engineers have been working for weeks, unknown to even the Chamber of Commerce and others instrumental in bringing the big base to the Eastbay shore.

GREAT WORK DONE BY WOMEN IN R. C. HOSPITAL

Reporter Visits Hospital and Sees Clubwomen, The Geatest Mother of all to Ailing

RED CROSS

The porch piled high with portable beds; nurses hurrying hither and yon, others letting visitors know how their friends are; others preparing medicines; still others making up beds in the large auditorium of the Richmond Club, which has been turned into a house of mercy overnight by the kind-hearted clubwomen. Such was the scene which greeted the News reporter on his visit to the Red Cross hospital.

The hospital is able conducted by Mrs. Katherine Smith as manager, and with Mrs. Redmond as head nurse and many clubwomen and society girls as volunteer nurses.

The large auditorium is lined all around with beds and in two lines down the center. Every available space is being used. This is the men's ward. The rooms upstairs are the women's wards, also where the kitchen is located.

In spite of the strain and hurry under which they are working there is lots of system.

As the reporter entered the men's ward three men nurses were doing their best to tie up a delirious patient so that he could not harm himself or others. The poor fellow was raving about going to work and about all his troubles.

Another unfortunate, Nevis by name, from Siverias Dairy in San Pablo, was receiving Sacrament from Father Porta, while up in front McKinley was leaving for home, happy.

Charles Crary started around with his arms full of drugs and supplies and he looked like a doctor to boot.

Mrs. Redmond was trying to eat her luncheon at 3 o'clock, but Mrs. Morgan would not let her.

They were going to shoot some bugs into the News man and put him to bed thinking him sick like the rest of the News crew, so he escaped.

The ladies who are giving of their time so unstintingly are as follows: Mrs. Katherine Smith, Mrs. Redmond, Mrs. Helen Morgan, Mrs. F. L. Rison, Mrs. H. Chapman, Mrs. C. Gibson, Mrs Chandler, Mrs. Bryant, Miss Lockwood and Miss Meta Ludewig.

The men nurses there yesterday were: R. F. Lee, C. Cassidy, W. Redmond, R. McAllister, Roe Kink and McCullough.

And they sure did work.

The kitchen was a like busy place where Mesdames J. M. Zong, H. McReaken, Olson and Ogbon were cooking dainties, sterilizing dishes and 1001 other little things.

GOOD SERVICE.

There are at present 54 patients in the hospital. Seven were discharged; they are: Mr. McKinley, Mr. Algren, Mr. Carrere, and Mesdames Valendas, Seikel and Miss Catherine Barry. Two patients died yesterday.

HELP WANTED.

Among the many things they need imperatively are women nurses not only for the hospital, but also to go to families where all are sick, to minister to them. Richmond has never failed in anything; will their women fail in this?

Then, women are wanted to cook in their homes for the hospital on certain days of the week. Call Mrs. Smith at 934.

Men nurses are in bigger demand than women and J. P Arnold has been put in charge of the recruiting for same. Will you help?

San Pablo Church Nears Completion

The Baptist church at San Pablo is slowly but surely nearing completion. The wiring of the church and installment of fixtures will be finished this week. The huge pipe organ also arrives this week and will be installed in due time.

Though the church is in an uncompleted condition it is being used for services nevertheless (when permissable) and will take several years before it will be finally complete.

T. & D. OWNER DYING.

J. T. Turner one of the owners of the T. and D. is at the St. Mary's Hospital in Oakland and is not expected to live. He has the flu.

Soldier Attempts Suicide On Train

Slashing himself across the throat with a razor, Andrew Sanbrano, an tor Knox of Pennsylvania, Republ attempted to commit suicide Sunday afternoon on a Southern Pacific train near Pinole. At Richmond he was removed to the Craven hospital, where Dr. W. E. Cunningham attended him. He was removed later to he Presidio.

Sanbrano was recently a patient in the Columbia war hospital, New York. It was thought his mind was affected. He was being taken by Sergeant John N. Washburne of the medical corps to be placed in charge of Sanbrano's mother, Mrs. Isabella Sanbrano, in San Jose.

STOP THE SKATES AND SCOOTERS.

As one of the several thousand victims of the epidemic, confined to bed or chair and suffering from terrible weakening and debilitating effects of the disease, we desire to make an urgent appeal to the city authorities, and epecially to the people themselves, for less unnecessary noise.

We who have passed through, or are passing through this scurge, are not only weakened down to the last ounce of energy, but our nerves are on a ragged and raw edge, and every sudden or jarring noise brings absolute and acute suffering. Every such noise is like a blow from which we cringe and shrink as though the blows were actual.

Yet most of these nerve-racking noises are wholly and totally unnecessary, and the fault of people who either lack brains to think with or are too self-centered and selfish to care about the feelings or sufferings of others.

Among the worst offenders are thousands of children who go clattering over the cement sidewalks, past the bedroom windows where hundreds of sick are suffering, on roller skates and "scooters."

To the invalids they are as many little imps of Satan out of hell, grinding into the sick and jangling nerves with never-ending cruelty. No sooner does one roar by than another and another, all-day long and into the night.

The children are not to blame, as they do not know any better, having never been taught by their parents to consider other people's feelings. But the parents are to blame, and deserve calling down good and hard. There is no necessity for it whatever, and it causes, needlessly, a great deal of acute suffering to hundreds of people who have about all they can bear without that devilish nerve-killing racket of thousands of skates and "go-devils" thundering all over the city on the sidewalks.

Why do you parents allow this? What is your excuse? Have you only a thimbleful of brains to think with, or are you too selfish to have any considerations for the feelings or sufferings of others?

Next in line of utter damnableness are the motorcycles. No man with the intelligence of a canned cove oyster would ride one of those snorting juggernauts through a city where so many hundreds are sick and prostrated. They should no more be allowed on the streets at a time like this than so many freight trains.

The delivery clerk with a second-hand Ford of the vintage of B. C., who leaves his engine wide-open for ten minutes while he is around back telling the cook just how the war ought to be run, is another flat-head, and the drivers of other tin-pans and pieces of junk, that rattle by like a broken down ditch digger, all belong in the "solid ivory," "nobody home" brigade, numbering in Richmond at least one full regiment, 1,000 strong.

AFTER WAR OPPORTUNITIES.

The big manufacturing plants of Richmond and this bay region will do well to look into this matter. It may bean millions for them:

"One would think that our great manufacturers and merchants who trade with foreign countries would see what is presented to them in Spanish-America. Brazil and Argentina are empires of themselves, Germany's trade with them during the past twenty years has made her rich and they have but just awakened into lusty life. But their languages are different from ours; their business methods are different. To obtain their full trade and confidence, Americans must establish business houses there, learn their languages and ways, study carefully what kind of goods and wares they want, in what form they want them and what they have to give in exchange.

"Then the government should make possible the sending of ships there in regular lines so that they maye be expected on certain days, and this not for a few months, but for a term of years. The same is true of Chile and all other South American states, only in less degree.

"This carried on would in a year or two familiarize Americans with the resources of those countries and cause them to see where small investments would expand into great enterprises, and thus open new fields for young and capable Americans."

"Germans," says the Philadelphia Press, "are protesting against the bombing of their towns by allied airplanes, which are retaliating for German outrages on English and French towns. It will recall the observation of a keen French gentleman, who said, "Hunting ze tigar-r is ze fine sport, but when ze tigar-r hunt ze man it ees different.'"

American vim and dash on the battlefield front is giving courage to the allies and filling them with enthusiasm. Nothing succeeds like success and nothing gives impetus to a movement like the chap who is always up and coming, or in this case, up and going.

Personally, we hope the political pot will freeze over this year. We cannot recall of any political pot that ever won a war.

If you have never pulled a bone-head you are like a cowcatcher that never pulls anything.

Correct Lubrication for the Ford Engine

The Ford automobile engine, illustrated here, like all internal combustion engines, requires an oil that holds its full lubricating qualities at cylinder heat, burns clean in the combustion chambers and goes out with exhaust. ZEROLENE LIGHT fills these requirements perfectly, because it is correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude.

"Zerolene is the Best"

—Say leading motor car distributors, because the records of their service departments show that ZEROLENE, correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude, gives perfect lubrication with less wear and less carbon deposit. Most cars are now lubricated with ZEROLENE, because their owners have learned through experience that there is no better oil.

ZEROLENE is the correct oil for all types of automobile engines. It is the correct oil for your automobile. Get our lubrication chart showing the correct consistency for your car.

RECREATION FOR WOMEN WORKERS

War Council of Y. W. C. A. Has Been Asked to Provide Adequate Facilities.

CLUBHOUSES TO BE BUILT

Steps Already Taken for Their Establishment in This Country, England and France—Ten Million Engaged in Industry in the United States.

There are now 10,000,000 women in industry in the United States, the Y. W. C. A. war council announced. The council has been asked by the government to provide recreation for the women workers of the country who are gradually replacing men, and in order to arrange for adequate facilities an investigation was ordered which disclosed this figure. It is only approximate, however.

The council found that since this country entered the war 2,000,000 women had been placed in industry in this country, and basing their estimates on this figure, which was due to abnormal conditions, they arrived at an approximate normal increase which brought them to the 10,000,000 estimate.

In the handling of these women, under the supervision of the commission on training camp activities, a series of foyers and clubhouses throughout this country, England and France had to be built, furnished and recreational facilities installed. Allowances have been made for increase of women in industry brought about by the continuation of the war and the rapidly diminishing man power in industry.

War Council Means of Training Labor.

An interesting wartime labor development which will be of special importance during the time of reconstruction after the war is the war department's plan to train 200,000 National army men in trades of special military value. Already large numbers of these men have undertaken the training courses at schools and colleges—110 in all—in every part of the United States.

The training the men are receiving is, of course, primarily to fit them for effective work in France or in duty of military importance at home, but most of the trades, if not all of them, in fact, will have an important peacetime value as well. The problems of the reconstruction period cannot be foreseen with any certainty now, but the creation of this reserve of mechanically trained men will no doubt be of importance in the reorganization of industry on a peace basis.

Granted New Rate of Pay.

The London (England) departmental committee to which was referred the question of wages for woman workers on the busses, trams and underground railways after the women had returned to work has awarded the women virtually what they demanded. Their new rate of pay will be equivalent to 25 shillings a week above what it was before the war. Some claims, however, it is declared, can only be decided on a national basis after a full inquiry.

The government, therefore, has appointed a committee to "investigate and report as to the relations which should be maintained between the wages of men and women, having regard to the interest of both as well as to the value of their work."

Anthracite Output Grows.

Production of anthracite coal during the week ended August 24 was 1,706,600 tons, which was an increase of 167,600 tons over the previous week's production and 127,562 tons over the corresponding week in 1917.

In announcing this the fuel administration called attention to the fact that certain bituminous districts, under stimulation of increased car supply, were showing marked production increases, and that the Connellsville field in Pennsylvania, during the week ending August 23, broke all previous records with its output of 716,954 tons.

Refuse Wage Jockeying.

In denying an application for further wage increases for hod carriers working on the new $28,000,000 terminal at South Boston, Mass., the war department took an emphatic stand against permitting its policy of paying "prevailing local scales" to be used in forcing up wage scales.

In spite of a subnormal food supply in this country the American people have been able to ship to the Allies as well as our own forces overseas 141,000,000 bushels of wheat, besides 844,600,000 pounds of meat, during the year ending June 30 last. This has been made possible by the wholesouled co-operation of the people, who, besides practicing self-denial, have speeded up production and responded nobly to the appeal from abroad.

Food Administrator Hoover, in a letter to President Wilson, gives a brief summary of the results of food conservation in the United States and of the activities of the Food Administration to this end. The conservation measures have been put through practically on a voluntary basis which is regarded as a splendid tribute to the patriotism of the American people.

Meat shipments were increased $84,000,000 pounds during the first fiscal year, as compared with our meat exports during the year before America entered the war.

"The total value of these food shipments," Mr. Hoover wrote President Wilson, "which were in the main purchased through or with collaboration of the Food Administration, amount to, roundly, $1,400,000,000 during the fiscal year."

In 1916-17 the United States sent the Allies 2,166,500,000 pounds of meat. In 1917-18, with voluntary conservation practiced in America, and aided by extra weight of animals, we sent the Allies 2,011,100,000 pounds of meat, an increase of 844,600,000 pounds.

Wheat Saving Enormous.

When the Food Administration began operations in the summer of 1917, this country was facing a large deficit in wheat. Counting in all carry-over wheat from the 1916 crop, we had at the beginning of the 1917 harvest year just enough wheat to take care of America's normal consumption,—not a bushel of surplus.

At the close of the 1917-18 harvest year the Food Administration's official reports showed that our total wheat shipments to the other side had been 141,000,000 bushels. Every bushel shipped was wheat saved by the American people from their normal consumption.

In cereals and cereal products reduced to terms of cereal bushels our shipments to Allied destinations were 340,800,000 bushels, 80,900,000 bushels more than the amount sent in 1916-17.

Included in these figures are 13,900,000 bushels of rye and the 141,000,000 bushels of saved wheat. In addition we sent the neutrals dependent on us 10,000,000 bushels of prime breadstuffs.

"These figures do not fully convey the volume of the effort and sacrifice made during the past year by the whole American people," the Food Administrator wrote. "I am sure that all the millions of our people, agricultural as well as urban, who have contributed to these results should feel a very definite satisfaction that in a year of universal food shortages in the Northern Hemisphere, all of those people joined together against Germany came through to the new harvest, not only with health and strength fully maintained, but with only temporary periods of hardship.

"It is difficult to distinguish between various sections of our people—the homes, public eating places, food trade, urban or agricultural populations—in assessing credit for these results, but no one will deny the dominant part of the American women.

SUGAR SHORTAGE HITS SPAIN AND PORTUGAL

In Spain and Portugal sugar prices are soaring. Both countries have been seriously affected by the short beet sugar crop in Europe and the lack of ocean tonnage to move stocks of cane sugar isolated in far away ports.

Granulated sugar, home grown, was being sold in Barcelona, Spain, during the early summer at 19 cents a pound. The price of brown sugar in Lisbon, Portugal, fixed by governmental order, was $1.04 to $1.12 a pound.

By comparison the price of beet sugar in Sweden is 14 cents a pound.

WHAT TO EAT WHEN DOWN WITH THE FLU---AND AFTER

Here is a list of suggestions for the feeding of influenza patients in various stages of the disease. It was prepared by Dr. Agnes Morgan of the University of California:

Diet During the ever Period.

The patient must be induced to eat more than his reduced appetite usually demands. Liquid, or semi-liquid food only must be given as least every four hours.

1. The basis of the diet is milk, supplemented by sugar and starch. The latter may be given in toast, starch and bread pudding, cereal mushes and gruels. Ice cream may be given two or three times a day if desired.

2. No course vegetables or fruit fiber should be given, but purees of spinach, asparagus, peas, carrots, may be given in the form of milk soups.

3. Meat broths are of little value and can not be relied upon as conveying nutrition. They may be given occasionally for variety.

4. Sugar should be added plentifully to mushes, fruit juices, puddings, and even to the milk given as a drink.

5. Fruit juices well chilled, are refreshing and valuable. Orange, apple, loganberry, grape juice and lemonade are all equally satisfactory.

6. Eggnogs and custards may be ever, no imperative necessity of given if desired. There is, however, adding eggs to the diet during the fever.

No other foods than those mentioned should be used. Do not experiment with the patient's digestion during the critical period.

Diet During Convalescence.

When the patient's temperature becomes normal, egg dishes, simple vegetable salads with plenty of oil dressing, broiled or boiled lean meats and fish, bacon, rice, baked and mashed potatoes, macaroni and fresh butter may be added to the diet advised for the fever period.

Suggested Menus for Convalescents.

BREAKFAST—(1) Oatmeal, corn meal, cream of barley, wheat, etc., with plenty of cream and sugar. (2) Milk toast with butter or oleomargarine. (3) Orange or stewed fruit. (4) Weak coffee or tea in moderate amounts with plenty of cream and sugar, if the patient desires it, may be allowed. Cocoa or chocolate made with milk, if tea or coffee is not demanded.

LUNCHEON AND DINNER—(1) A vegetable milk soup. (2) Mashed or baked potatoes, or creamed macaroni and cheese, or rice. (3) VMs, kNca2((-) TAO HRA RAR Toasted bread or muffins, with butter or oleomargarine. (4) Tomato, asparagus, lettuce or artichoke salad with plenty of oil dressing.. (5) An egg omelet, souffle or custard, or broiled lean meat or fish, such as lamb chops, beefsteak, sole, or a creamed dish, such as creamed codfish. (6) Ice cream or a frozen custard.

Not all these varieties of food need be given at a single meal. A combination of any three of the six classes, providing class 5 is represented, will usually sumce.

A glass of milk, ice cream, custard or cup of cocoa should be given in the between meal periods and at night, throughout the twenty-four hours.

INFLUENZA CURED BY CAMPHOR HOOKAH

C. H. Dwinelle, well-known resident of Santa Rosa, recommends the following remedy to those who have a cold or think they are contracting influenza:

"Louis Pasteur, the great French authority on germ diseases, announced about 1890 that camphor was the specific for influenza. He advised the use of camphorated steam, as follows: Fill a pitcher, can or similar vessel with boiling water (two quarts are enough). Around the vessel wrap a paper and pin it, so as to make a short chimney, with an opening about two inches across, through which the escaping steam can be inhaled. Into the water pour eight or ten drops of strongest spirits of camphor, and inhale the steam deeply through the nose and the mouth for twenty minutes, adding more camphor from time to time.

"Use at night and in the morning, and oftener if desirable, and continue it ntil tnhe influenza is completely broken up.

"A smoker can pulverize a piece of camphor, the size of a pea, and mix it with the tobacco in a cigarette or a pipe."

Old Remedy Saves H. S. Moore's Life

H. S. Moore, a tSandard stillman, owes his life to the wonderful qualities of an old remedy, which was applied when everything else failed to cure him.

He was given up as lost with pneumonia and his family was already mourning for him when this old formula was suggested by a neighbor and was faithfully applied with the result that he is up and about today.

The formula of this great remedy is printed below by the News, so that others may profit and perhaps be saved through it:

Take equal parts of Camphorated Oil, Sweet Oil, Turpentine and Kerosene, with just a trifle more of the Camphorated Oil and Turpentine. Apply after being heated and hot with the balls of the finger, then cover with hot flannel. Repeat every four or five minutes for several hours. Thi remedy tends to warm the lungs and through that eliminates coughing and eases pain.
